Cambridge Mayor and Council bring Arts Showcase to the community

Cambridge, Ontario. June 12, 2009 ... Mayor Doug Craig and Cambridge City Council welcome everyone at City Hall, 50 Dickson St, tonight to join in on the 7th annual Mayor's Celebration of the Arts. Beginning at 7 until 10:30 pm, the event features a wealth of activities for people of all ages.

Four separate stages in and around City Hall will host a variety of talent including many local youth. There are over 95 youth performers ranging in age from 5 to twenty from schools all across Cambridge. Come join in and witness the best of local music, dance and visual artistry. All events at these stages are completely free. Wander between shows and partake in foods from 9 local restaurants (food and drink charges will apply).

Frameous will also be holding a live and silent auction on the second floor of City Hall. Winning elements for the Time Capsule set to be reopened in 50 years will be on display and briefly announced. Do not miss this chance to be a part of history!

Last year more the 1,500 attended and Mayor Doug Craig expressed his excitement and hopes for more people to join in this year. "The event continues to build and each year the quality of talent grows. We are so proud of the arts and culture community here and this showcase enables us to demonstrate this cluster of strength."

So bring the family and enjoy an evening of quality entertainment, food and festivities as the much awaited celebration comes to life this evening.
