The installation of a deep receiving shaft (approximately 6m in diameter) in the intersection of Hardcastle Drive and Freure Drive is now complete. The directional drilling contractor has re-mobilized and the work to complete the installation of the new watermain has commenced. Due to some mechanical issues and unforeseen delays, the anticipated completion date of the work on Hardcastle Drive and Freure Drive is set to continue until approximately the end of May.

Once the watermain has been installed and final connections are made, complete road restoration will follow.
